FIFTY-THIRD YEAR No. 19.

CEDARVILLE, OHIO, FRIDAY, APRIL 18, 1930

PRICE, $1.50 A YEAR

NEWS LETTER FROM STATE DEPARTMENTS

Columbus, O.—Preliminary arrangements are being made for the annual reunion of the boys of the 108th Infantry of the famous Rainbow Division, which will be held in the Capital City June 12, 14 and 16. The visitors will be assured a warm welcome and a royal good time. Secretary of State Clarence J. Brown is proud of the fact that 19 of his employees were in the service of their country, two of whom were Colonels; another, a young woman, enlisted as a yeomanette and served during the duration of the war.

Successful bidders on $2,921,633 worth of proposed highway improvements will be announced shortly by Director Robert N. Waid. Another letting on April 25 will total over $2,000,000, which with $2,000,000.00 in contracts April 1, and over half a million dollars for surface treating, brings the total expenditure for the present month to over $7,500,000.00, assuring employment to thousands of men in various sections of the state.

Quite a number of state employees have been attending the Lenten services held in one of the local theatres for the past couple of weeks, the program taking place daily from 11:25 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. At the same time the young lady contingent has been preparing for Easter by selecting new hats and gowns for the annual paschal feast commemorating the goddess of spring.

Dr. Charles A. Neal, Director of the State Health Department, states that 261 smallpox cases were reported in Ohio for the last week in March, while 634 cases of scarlet fever were reported in a single week. During the month of March 919 cases of smallpox were reported to the board and 841 for February. Cases for the first quarter of 1930 reached the impressive total of 2580, virtually all parts of the state being afflicted.

Spring house cleaning has invaded the State House and also the State House Park. In the former, painters and decorators are busy assisting in putting departmental rooms in order. Landscaping artists and yard men are grooming the park and when the new buds bloom forth with fragrant flowers there will be a noticeable change. Even the poor, scrawny, forlorn looking squirrels must be going to bed with youthful adolescent stock so that the former may not mar the surroundings.

The Division of Safety and Hygiene of the Industrial Commission of Ohio, reports 97 fatalities for the month of February as compared with 111 the previous month. There were 38 counties with no fatalities for the first two months of the year. There was also a reduction of over 2,500 accidents in the total number reported in February of 1931.

Boys and girls of Ohio will miss the "School of the Air" which "signs off" Tuesday, April 16, with addresses by Governor Cooper, Director of Education Clifton and "Uncle Ben" Darvay, who will bid the pupils goodbye for the spring and summer vacation. There will also be a program of special music.

B. B. Tournay Dates For Coming Year

Dates for the fifteenth annual Greene County basketball tournament in 1931 have been fixed as February 27-28 by village and township high school superintendents with County Superintendent H. C. Aultman. Weimer and Marquardt, of the Miami Valley Officials' association, were selected to officiate at the tournament. The superintendents failed to decide upon a place for next year's tournament, which for several years has been held in Central high school gymnasium, Xenia.

Space there is limited, however, and because of the increasingly large attendance at the county meets a larger floor and more spacious quarters may be sought. A committee was appointed to make a selection and recommendation to the superintendents. Girls' teams are expected to compete in the tourney as well as 1 y's squads, it is said. Girls have engaged in the county tournaments here for several years.

SALE ORDERED

Partition of property appraised at $1,200 has been denied and sale of the premises at public auction ordered in the case of George Jamison against Homer Jamison in Common Pleas Court. The court approved the appraisal.

COURT NEWS

DIVORCE SOUGHT BY WIFE
Divorce from Claude G. Willis, Bellbrook, on grounds of extreme cruelty, is sought in a suit filed in Common Pleas Court by Ruth H. Willis. The plaintiff asks to be awarded custody of their two minor children, Paul, 6, and Ralph, 4, seeks temporary and permanent alimony and attorney fees, requests that her husband be divested of all interest in their real estate and personal property and that he be restrained from disposing of their real estate and molesting her. They were married in Cincinnati December 25, 1919.

FORECLOSURE ASKED
Suit for $3,154.23 and foreclosure of mortgaged property has been filed in Common Pleas Court by The Home Building and Savings Co. against L. B. Riley and Mattie Riley. Claiming a mortgage interest, F. M. Della and Florence Della are named co-defendants in the action. Harry D. Smith is the plaintiff's attorney.

DEED VACATED
Deed of Alexander Morgan to Cordelia Berry and Frederick D. Berry, involving certain property, has been ordered set aside by the court in a suit filed by Elmer M. Thomas against the Berrys, on grounds that the deed was obtained by fraud. Vacating of the conveyance of the property, however, is conditional upon the agreement that the plaintiff reimburse the defendants to the extent of $201.65, amount paid by them on a mortgage to The Peoples Building and Savings Co.

GIVEN JUDGMENT
The Peoples Building and Savings Company has recovered a judgment for $3,531.65 in Common Pleas Court against Agnes Thompson and Andrew Thompson. Foreclosure of mortgaged property was ordered.

DAMAGES SOUGHT
Charles F. Marshall, owner of two farms containing 187 acres in Cedarville Twp., has brought suit in Common Pleas Court demanding $1,595 damages from Robert E. Evans, tenant on the land, whom he charges with failing to comply in many particulars with a contract entered into in 1928 for rental of the farms.

One of the principal charges of violation is that the defendant has had 700 chickens on the place for four years and that the plaintiff paid for the feed and received no income. For this alleged violation the plaintiff seeks to recover $500. Attorney F. L. Johnson represents the plaintiff.

SEEKS TO QUIET TITLE
W. H. Fishback has brought suit in Common Pleas Court against the unknown heirs of Lewis Sides, deceased, and against Ella Croker to have his alleged title to a strip of ground containing .019 of an acre on the south side of Main St., quieted.

Claiming that he has had possession of this ground for twenty-one years, the plaintiff asserts he brought the action because the defendant, Ella Croker, claims an interest in the strip hostile to his own and that recently she built a fence five feet on his property.

Declaring that her claims put a cloud on his title, the plaintiff asks the court to quiet his title and seeks an injunction to force removal of the fence from his premises. C. W. Whitmer is attorney for the plaintiff.

NAMED ADMINISTRATOR
Harry Cross has been appointed administrator of the estate of Virginia Cross, deceased, with $500 bond in Probate Court.

LOCAL FIRMS WILL PASS TO NEW OWNERS

Two of Cedarville's business institutions will soon pass to new owners, one having already taken charge.

The first transaction was the sale of McCampbell's Exchange to C. E. Barnhart of near Camden, Ohio. In the trade Mr. Barnhart gets the feed, coal and oil business and business property and Mr. McCampbell's residence on West Xenia avenue. Mr. McCampbell takes over a hundred-acre farm four miles from Camden, in Preble County, and moved yesterday. Mr. McCampbell has been in business about a half a year. Mr. Barnhart is married and has four children. He took possession of the business last Saturday.

Another deal of the week was the contract of sale of The Cedarville Farmers' Grain Company on Monday to Mr. Ed Allen, Circleville, who owned the same business some years ago. By the terms of the contract Mr. Allen has an option that must be exercised within sixty days.

The new owner takes over the two elevators, stock of goods and business and will continue handling the same lines. He will have associated with him as bookkeeper, J. G. McCorkill, who served in the same capacity when Mr. Allen owned the business before.

Clinton Co. Auditor Goes To Prison

Harry Gaskill, for 16 years auditor of Clinton County, who was recently indicted on 62 counts following an examination of his office by the State Bureau of Accounting, did not stand trial Monday when his first case was called but entered a plea of guilty and was immediately given a sentence of two to ten years in the Ohio Penitentiary. L. I. Frazier, a road contractor, will be tried on April 28. Harry Moon, Clark Township clerk, and the three county commissioners all face indictments.

Merger of Lodges Is Proposed

Proposed merger of Jamestown Lodge No. 181, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, with Xenia Lodge No. 59, of that order, was approved by the Xenia organization Tuesday night. It remains for the proposal to be acted upon by the Grand Lodge of Ohio. The Jamestown lodge is 79 years old and owns real estate in Jamestown worth $1,500. Xenia lodge is 84 years old.

APPOINT EXECUTORS

David E. Coy has been appointed executor of the estate of Rebecca Coy, late of Beaver Creek Twp., without bond in Probate Court. Lewis Stewart, Lincoln Coy and Charley Duncan were named appraisers.

Elton W. Smith was named executor of the estate of Jacob N. Smith, late of Xenia, bond being dispensed with. Albert W. Treasle, Charles V. Harness and John W. Ary were appointed appraisers.

John M. Davidson and Emma D. Cherry have been appointed executors of the estate of Emma M. Magruder, late of Xenia, without bond. T. C. Long, Arthur Cummings and John A. Nibset were named appraisers.

BETTER HOMES AMERICA

Mrs. David Gaskill, wife of Harry Gaskill, auditor of Clinton County, has been appointed to head a committee of local women to plan a "Better Homes" campaign in Greene County.

She has as her assistants Mrs. Chas. Kelble for city work, Mrs. Elin Hame and Mrs. Emma Bradford for county work. This movement was made by the National Better Homes organization of Washington, D. C., which is now headed by Secretary Wilbur Hoover. It is a non-commercial educational organization, its object is to promote better housing, comfort and wholesome family life, to locate home sites, to increase efficiency of home gardens, to show how all these things can be done in both city and country.

Members of local Better Homes Communities, says Dr. Ray Tynan Wilbur, "command the best information and aid that various national organizations and government bureaus can furnish. By means of local work they reach not only families who are meeting problems for the first time, but others who are striving to improve their home environment and to bring up healthy, happy children, well fitted to carry on the tasks that lie ahead of our nation."

Dr. James Ford is in immediate charge of this month's campaign. In 1924 there were 770 local chairmen. In 1929 there were 6900 besides 800 county chairmen. In 1930 states nearly every county did active work. The work in this county was begun last year in a very modest way and it is hoped to make it more extensive this year.

Last June a tour was made by both rural and city people visiting gardens in Xenia and Yellow Springs. Several homes in Yellow Springs were thrown open for inspection. The owners were most cordial in explaining the details. Some of the houses were new, some remodelled, some only rearranged or adapted, some modestly, and some with practically no expense. All taking the tour were delighted both with the pleasure and the educational features. A more extensive tour is planned this year and the committee hopes to have a keen vegetable garden contest.

It is taking support of all local organizations as well as individuals interested in the beautification and betterment of home conditions in Greene County. Watch the papers for further news concerning lectures, tours and contests.

Youth Sustains Fractured Skull

Fred Turnbull, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Turnbull of the Cedarville-Jamestown pike, who was struck by an automobile Tuesday night, remains about the same.

It is stated that the lad sustained a fracture of the skull.

The Turnbull child was attending services at the Jamestown Presbyterian Church Tuesday night. After the services, he attempted to cross a street and ran from behind parked cars directly into the path of a machine driven by a Mr. Crawford of Washington, D. C.

FORMER HEADS XENIA HOME ON CARPET

Three former superintendents of the Xenia O. S. & S. O. Home are severely criticized in a report filed following the examination by F. M. Hoppengartner to the State Bureau of Accounting and State Auditor Tracey.

Sylvia Garver, Col. Thomas F. Andrews and Charles V. Burton, failed to manage the institution as it should be according to the report. The report states that most of the faults are due to the fact that institution has not been divorced from politics.

Members of this institution seem to have been the most outstanding administrative characteristic of the management for several years past," the report asserted.

Garver is criticized particularly "neglecting to transfer to his successor a deposit certificate for $578" belonging to an inmate. Andrews is blamed for "mismanagement which resulted in a loss of $1,500," because 600 pairs of girls' high-topped shoes were left unused on the shelves of the institution store when the superintendent started furnishing low shoes to inmates.

Criticizing Colonel Burton's administration the report asserts that his "genius for destructive carelessness amounts to an art which beggars anything in this line observed by the examiner in his sixteen years' experience in state institution work."

Burton is scored particularly for "misleading checks, deposit certificates, adjusted compensation certificates and money belonging to residents of the institution." The report states specifically "not intimate that Mr. Burton was anything more than careless."

Other criticism of Burton includes the assertion that during his regime there was a "too prodigal use" of gasoline at the institution.

During five months of last year, the institution purchased 8,080 gallons of gasoline.

Bishop Jones Gets $850 For Road

Bishop Joshua H. Jones of Wilberforce, was awarded a verdict for $850 as compensation and damages for land appropriated by the Xenia township board of trustees to furnish a new entrance to Stevenson cemetery across the farm of Bishop Jones near Wilberforce, by a common pleas jury.

Stevenson cemetery was originally on the Stevenson farm which was bought several years ago by Bishop Jones. Before releasing ownership of the farm the heirs decided the cemetery site to the Xenia township trustees. The latter decided to locate the entrance in another spot, owing to the fact that the old entrance passes through a barnyard and lane on the Jones' farm much used by livestock.

The cemetery is about 100 years old, and contains the graves of many pioneers including a number of soldiers of the Revolutionary war. Since the cemetery has been in the possession of the trustees, burial in the plot is permitted without charge.

SCHOOL NEWS

Junior Play
The Junior Class Play, "Professor Pepp" was pronounced a success by almost everyone. The Juniors certainly proved that there are members in their class who have much dramatic ability. The financial report, as given in chapel Wednesday morning was: Total receipts, $140.60; Expenses, $40.60; Balance $100.00.

Chapel
A special chapel was called on Wednesday morning. A very interesting talk was given by Rev. Jamieson on the subject of "Success." The special music consisted of a violin solo by Frances Kimble accompanied by Ruth Kimble.

Eighth Grade Taking Exams
Since Cedarville has the six year High School plan, it was reported that it would not be necessary for the eighth grade to take examinations. Director J. L. Clifton, however, sent a letter to all County Superintendents requesting all eighth grade pupils to take the examinations. His reason is that he is desirous of making a comparison between one-room rural schools and the centralized and consolidated schools.

For this reason, all six year as well as four year high schools are co-operating with the State Department in assisting the authorities to secure this comparative data. It will be interesting to learn how the modern centralized schools compare with the one-room rural school.

There will be another examination on May 16. All eighth grade pupils of Cedarville will be required to take both tests. There would be no eighth grade examinations this time as we had last year since we are operating entirely on the six-year basis. Under our charter the seventh and eighth grade pupils are considered in high school just as much as the upper four grades; hence, there is no need for an eighth grade test. It seems somewhat out of order to be giving this examination under present conditions but we trust the patrons will realize we are complying with the request of the Director of Education and County Superintendent in making this comparative study.

Athletic News
Bowersville Defeats Us
Last Friday afternoon we lost our first baseball game to the Bowersville nine. This game proved to be a thriller, despite the fact it was our first game. The big thrill of the game came in the 7th inning when Abel knocked a homer that brought in two men, making the score 4-3 for Bowersville. The game ended with this same score.

Bellbrook
Today at 3:15 we play the Bellbrook team here. We expect to avenge the defeat we suffered last week, by defeating Bellbrook. This game will be played on the College diamond. Free admission to all.

Automobile Goes Over Embankment

An automobile owned by a Springfield man by the name of Knott plunged over an embankment at Bab-sath and was left a mass of wreckage at the bottom of a deep gorge on the Miami river west of Clifton.

The machine had been parked near the twin bridges on the Clifton and Yellow Springs road and evidently the breaks had not been set tight enough for the machine was near the edge of the gorge before anyone noticed it moving. The occupants had gotten out to walk along the river to view the scenery.

Contractors Making Good Progress

The Pittsburgh-Des Moines Company, local contractors for the municipal water system, have made good progress this week on laying pipe. The ditching machine covers about 1800 feet a day and employees lay about that much pipe. The steel workers are erecting the water tower which will be 110 feet high.

Rat Drive Is Being Promoted

A number of men have signified their interest in a rat drive to be held sometime in the near future. No definite plans can be announced until an organization is formed. Such drives have been staged in other places and it is held one is necessary in this township.

C. E. COOLEY DIED TUESDAY HEART TROUBLE

Charles E. Cooley, 69, one of Cedarville township's most prominent farmers, died at his country home Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock after an illness of about three months. Mr. Cooley had been ill during the winter but recovered to the extent that he was able to come to town. He suffered a relapse several days ago from which he could not recover.

The deceased was born on a farm near Goes Station, November 12, 1860 and was the son of William and Julia Parry Cooley. He came to Cedarville township following his marriage to Miss Jeanette Kyle, April 9, 1884.

Mr. Cooley was a member of the United Presbyterian church and was always active in church work as well as in community affairs. He had been township assessor for several years.

Surviving are his widow, two daughters, Mrs. Edna Cooley Bull, near Xenia; and Miss Martha Cooley, who is a member of the faculty at Northern State College, Marquette, Mich., and Wilbur, who resides on the home farm. A sister, Mrs. Sylvia Gearhart of Waldo, survives also.

The funeral was held from the United Presbyterian church Thursday afternoon, Rev. R. A. Jamieson, his pastor, having charge of the service. Burial took place in Woodland Cemetery, Xenia.

Dayton Team Had No Runaway Game

The Dayton University Flyers won the baseball game against Cedarville College "Yellow-Jackets" last Saturday afternoon at Dayton; but the Dayton team found real opposition.

Albert Turner, flyer Cedarville, held the University team to six hits and one earned run even though the score was 5 to 2 for Dayton. With a little better support Turner could have pitched his team to victory. In the seventh Catcher Boyer let a ball get away from him with two men on bases.

PEMBERTON DYNASTY IS FALLING

With the sentence of the Clinton County auditor to a prison term following a plea of guilty to graft and other indictments still standing, it begins to look like the political machine that has functioned so perfectly in Clinton County, under the direction of D. Pemberton, one-time liquor lobbyist for Cincinnati brewery interests, will crumble. Both Republican and Democratic politics have been under the control of Pemberton and few men have been able to get a decent vote in that county unless they had connection with the machine.

Gaskill will soon be found at the state institution on West Spring street, Columbus, a guest of the state with a distinguished hair-cut and a suit in keeping with the style of dress that predominates there. Pemberton resides in a mansion on the exclusive residential section on the East side. Harry and "D" won't be so far apart after all. Clinton County elected a prosecuting attorney that was not a part of the Pemberton machine for which the citizens of that county now have reason to congratulate themselves.

FORMER OHIO WOMAN WINS IN ILLINOIS

When Ruth Hanna McCormick won the Republican nomination for Senator in Illinois last week, Ohio came into the political picture. Mrs. McCormick was the daughter of the late Marcus A. Hanna, former Republican leader and at one time Senator from Ohio. She had her early political training in this state and always had a keen interest in public affairs. She is a wonderful speaker and business woman and yet has time to care for her home and three children following the death of her husband a few years ago.

Illinois has some political entanglements and a review of the recent campaign reveals some connections that most people regret. Mrs. McCormick had for her opponent, Senator Deneen, who six years ago had defeated her husband. Senator Deneen had openly opposed Mayor Thompson and his organization in Chicago that gave birth to organized power with the lower element in the city. The Thompson forces have been fighting for existence as a result of an open city and no law enforcement but have again come into power as a result of Mrs. McCormick's nomination. The latter is rated "Dry" yet a wet city gave her a big majority vote, as did the state. A city like Chicago cares nothing for the eighteenth amendment and does not stop to think how a candidate stands on the prohibition issue.

FARMERS ASKED TO CUT ACREAGE

The request made by the Federal Farm Board that farmers cut wheat acreage to check over production comes a bit late for this section of the country where winter wheat is the rule. In northern states there is a chance of cutting acreage for spring wheat.

Just how wheat farmers will take the request and what the reaction will be is a problem. The price of wheat is unreasonably low and there cannot be any great profit but a small profit from the land will be welcomed to no profit, or at least that is the view we predict wheat farmers will take. In the wheat country what other crop can be substituted? Farm taxes are not being reduced. The farm owners must have an income to support his family. How is this to be done?

The Farm Board finds there has been an over-production of wheat in the country, more than the nation can consume. For this reason farmers are asked to cut the wheat acreage this year in the hope of forcing the price up. With a higher price and smaller acreage the income might be as great. But if the price is not higher, the farmer is again the loser.

CITY WRITERS MIGHT VISIT SMALL TOWNS

The nation is now in the midst of the census taking and we are getting reports early as to how the rural village is headed for oblivion. We are told by a city press writer that small towns in the central states have decreased in population, from five to one hundred per cent. As census returns are supposed to be secret according to the Bureau in Washington, the next question arises as to where the writer secured his figures or estimates.

If we were asked to venture a prediction on census returns for rural sections we would say there had been little increase if any in population. The city naturally will be the center of interest but has there not been a drifting of city population to some extent for the open spaces outside of the city limits. Notice the growth of some of the new additions as you enter a city, and in most cases these additions are outside the city boundary line. The writer in question thinks because the village smithy is gone there is no longer need for the village inn. The village church is passing according to his view. Only a few dilapidated buildings remain.

Such stories are only a challenge to people in rural towns to improve their buildings, their lawns and gardens. Towns with modern improvements are not leaving the map and will not if citizens co-operate in working for the upbuilding of the community.

There are many things the city has in the way of pleasure and entertainment but the city chap must go to the country to get a breath of fresh air on a hot summer day.

Easter Lilies

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

AS WE read the sixth chapter of the Gospel according to St. Matthew, we find these two verses:

"And why take ye thought for raiment? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow; they toil not, neither do they spin."

"And yet I say unto you, that even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these."

And it is these flowers which, more than anything else, have become the symbols of Easter which we celebrate this year on April 20. As such a symbol the lily has a double significance. It is one of the earliest spring flowers.

It typifies the rebirth of nature after the long winter sleep. In its dry, brown bulb life lies dormant during the winter and then when spring comes, this life begins to stir. First it pushes out the tender green leaves, and then the buds appear. Finally the white blossom comes forth in all its glory as the perfect emblem of resurrected life.

Its other significance is a religious one, its snow-white purity being emblematic of the flawless life of Christ whose resurrection from the tomb we commemorate on Easter day. In fact, no other flower has a place in the religious life and literature of the Christian world to compare to the lily. Yet its glory is not so new as Christmas, for, ancient though the beginnings of that religion may seem to us.

The Greeks and the Romans prized it above all flowers and in their earlier civilizations it had already come to symbolize purity and virtue. It was because of the lily that had won in the popular esteem that they found place in the early paintings of the Virgin. The angel Gabriel was depicted carrying them in annunciation pictures and it is because of this that the most beautiful of these flowers, Lilium candidum, most used at Easter, is called the madonna lily.

Although this trumpet-like blossom is the best known of all the members of the lily family, there are others which are very interesting even though they do not have such significance for us as the madonna lily. In the high Himalayas in Asia grows a great lily ten feet tall. Agents of the United States government found a magnificent specimen of lily in China a generation ago—a lily of the madonna type, but harder—and brought it to America and they have been offering it to citizens to plant from coast to coast.

Most of the lilies that are native to America are radiant with color. There is the turk's cap, for instance, that flaunts the deep yellow of its many blooms through the waste stretches of parts of New England. Great, staminate stalks, sometimes nine feet tall, has the turk's cap. It may have half a dozen orange blooms at its top, but those who have tamed this plant and given it care have induced it to provide as many as 40 blossoms.

A quite different American flower is the little trout lily which likes to grow along the streams or in the deep woods. With the nourishment it has saved up in its bulb it starts growing in the early spring and is likely to have bloomed before the leaves of the trees have grown to the stage of making shade to interfere with it. A radiant yellow, the trout lily stands out vividly against its background of green.

The blue flag running to purple is another American lily that has found itself a home in many gardens. The mottled tiger lily has been a favorite for many generations. In California the "leopard lily" lights the heather dun, and the late bloom meadow is often red with their bloom.

The red lilies of New England, however, outshine them all and have inspired many a poet of that region. Lucy Larcom spoke of them as "red lilies blazing out of the thicket." Paul Hamilton Hayne thought that the red lily "stands from all her sister flowers apart."

Probably the most remarkable lily in the world is the yucca, or spanish bayonet, of the arid plains of the Southwest. There the lily becomes a plant that is quite treelike and lives for years. The lily leaves become harsh, dagger-tipped implements to serve the purpose of repelling attack. These may sit close to the ground or, again, they may stand as high as a man on horseback.

From the cluster of leaf armor there springs now and again a tall stalk that may reach like a flagpole into the desert sunshine. At the top of this stalk there forms and finally

An Easter Flower

"To make one petal, myriads of atoms (each in itself a planetary system of electrons) must climb and wheel to their exact stations in the design."—Statement of a scientist.

Up-whispered by what Power, Deeper than moon or sun Must each of the myriad atoms of this flower

To its own point of the colored pattern run

Each atom, from earth's gloom, A clear sun-cluster driven To make, at its bright goal, one grain of bloom.

Or flock with rose one petal's edge in Heaven?

What kind roots lifted up Transmuting their dark food, in this wild cup

Of glory, to what Heavenly bread and wine?

What Music was concealed, What Logos in this loam, That the Celestial Beauty here revealed Should thus be struggling to its lost home?

Whence was the radiant storm, The still up-rushing song, That built of formless earth this heavenly form, Redeeming with art, the world's blind wrong.

Unlocking everywhere The spirit's wintry prison, And whispering from the grave, "Not here! Not here!"

He is not dead. The Light you seek is risen!"

—Adapted from the Washington Star.

breaks into bloom such an assemblage of pure white, bell-like, richly perfumed, and in every way perfect lilies as nature produces nowhere else in a single cluster. It is given to the desert to grow the greatest of all the lily-bearing plants despite the fact that the chief habitat of the breed seems to be the marsh.

Lilies all grow from bulbs. This bulb-making capacity of the lily family is one of its dominant traits. It and the six petals to all lily blooms are marks of the tribe. Tulips, daffodils, hyacinths, crocuses, all are actually, because they spring from bulbs, members of the lily family.

But beautiful as are these members of the lily family, there are others which are utilitarian rather than purely ornamental and which, although like the "lilies of the field which toil not," do furnish mankind with edible crops. Surprising though it may be, botanists will tell you that some of our common vegetables are in reality "lilies."

There is asparagus, for instance, that is bought in the market tied up in bundles of many stalks, each exactly like the other. There is nothing about this asparagus in this form that would indicate that it is a lily. Asparagus tips are but young plants just coming through the ground. If they were allowed to grow they would throw out tall, lily-like stalks and crown them with six-tipped flowers that any observer would be able to identify as lilies.

The presence of this commonplace asparagus in an lily family is rather a let down to its pretensions. This, however, is not the worst. If the truth must be told, the onion is a lily. The onion is a lily that has been bred through centuries for the development of its bulb and the suppression of its top. So it has come about that the bulb may be three inches across and the top so insignificant that, when it has dried up, it hardly appears at all. Yet when this top is growing and flowering it is like those delicate plants of the window sill which sometimes are called tube roses, but which actually are a delicate, re-finer and fragrant lily that comes out of the Orient.

Onions came from the Near East and in ancient days furnished a staple food for the rural inhabitants of Greece and Italy. Not only was garlic a food, but it was reputed to have medicinal value and to be helpful to the stomach in its functions.

These two bulb vegetables, the Citronella of the plant food world, ride about the earth in trainloads and shiploads. The material service they render is greater than that of all the other lilies-put together. One would have to look far in all the relationships of nature to find a contrast more striking than that of the Easter lily and the garlic of the Mediterranean.

Even though the lily is the one perfect symbol of Easter, there are two others which through the centuries have become so closely associated with this red-letter day in our calendars that we think of them almost as quickly. In thinking of Easter, as we do of the lily, they are the rabbit and the egg.

The association of the rabbit or hare with Easter has its foundations in the ancient belief in European and Asiatic countries that the hare is the symbol for the moon. In fact, the Chinese represent the moon as a rabbit pounding rice in a mortar, while Hindu and Japanese artists paint the hare across the face of the moon. As the time of the Easter festival is governed by the phases of the moon this may be an explanation of their connection.

The mythical natural history of the Hindu tells us that hares live on the shores of the lake of the moon. In Swabia the children are not allowed to make shadow pictures of rabbits on the wall, because it is considered a sin against the moon.

The colored folk of the southern states have a strong belief in the power of the "left hind foot of a graveyard rabbit" killed in the dark of the moon.

In County Warwick, England, it is the young men of the town can catch a hare and bring it to the parish on Easter morning he must give them a calf's head, one hundred eggs for their breakfast and a great in money.

Nowadays the Easter bunny has become so confused with the Easter egg custom that the hares are supposed to lay the many colored eggs the children find on Easter morning.

The association of the egg with Easter goes back to certain beliefs of the ancients also. Eggs had been associated with the worship of Asherah, the goddess of the Phoenicians, the Egyptians, Diana of the Greeks and Romans and Eostre, whom the Teutons worshipped in the spring. Incidentally, the name Easter is said by some to be derived from the name of this Teutonic goddess, although others assert that it was named for an old pagan spring festival in honor of the sun's new birth in the east.

The Egyptians regarded the egg as an emblem of the recreation of things and of man's regeneration. Then, too, the egg with its life germ destined to produce a living creature when warmed by the mother hen is easily associated with the idea of the earth blossoming under the warm sun.

Since the Resurrection of Christ occurred in the spring, it is easy to see how the symbol of the egg and all revived life in the springtime came to be associated with this event in the history of Christianity. The egg as a symbol was taken over by the Hebrews as an emblem of their delivery from bondage and next the early Christians took it over as their symbol of the resurrection.

GRATEFUL MAN FINDS HEALTH IN NEW KONJOLA

Could Not Enjoy A Meal—
Now Freed of Severe
Stomach Disorders

MR. C. H. BOOTH

"Konjola quickly and thoroughly itself the master medicine," said Mr. C. H. Booth, 15 Henderson road, Columbus. "No words of mine can describe my praise for this splendid remedy. For a long time I suffered from stomach trouble that resisted every medicine and treatment I tried. Gas bloating and severe indigestion pains followed every meal. Constipation added to my misery, and I was without hope of ever seeing another well day."

"As I read daily of the health and happiness that Konjola had brought to so many Columbus citizens, I realized I would be making a mistake not to give it a trial. I began the treatment, and that was the turning point for Konjola went right to work. My system was cleansed and constipation banished. Then my digestion was restored, and now I eat three hearty meals a day without the slightest distress."

Konjola, the new and different medicine, is a systematic treatment taken after meals. Quickly Konjola goes to the source of the ailments, cleansing and invigorating the ailing organs, and giving abundant and glorious relief.

Konjola is sold in Cedarville, Ohio at Prowant & Brown drug store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Solve Problem Of Rural Sick Room

Women In Shelby County
Make Township List
Of Equipment

Castly sick room appliances and equipment, necessary for only a short time perhaps, but nevertheless necessary, add heavily to the burden of expense attached to sickness or disability from accident in a rural home. A pair of crutches, a wheeled chair, a back rest or a bedside table are some times urgently needed and soon finished with. The average rural family cannot afford a complete supply of such equipment, but the members of the family may need it as badly as city dwellers do.

Women in Green township, Shelby County, took a long step toward solution of the problem when they canvassed their township and made a survey of all the sick room equipment owned in the township. Then they posted a list in the centralized township school, showing what articles were available, and who owned them. Now, when sickness attacks a Green township family, reference to the list shows where the necessary appliances can be located and borrowed from their owners, to whom they are returned when they are no longer needed by the borrower. The list was compiled during the working out of a project in home care of the sick sponsored by the Agricultural Extension Service of the Ohio State University, and directed by Miss Wanda Pzyluska, extension health specialist.

"Other townships have established loan chests at central points where sick room equipment is assembled. But that means that someone has to take charge of it and make loans from it. The Green township method leaves it up to the borrower and the owner. Incidentally, it has helped in creating a spirit of neighborliness and willingness to help each other in the whole township," says Miss Pzyluska.

Says Sam: Not every one who talks too much is afflicted with parrot fever.

Although the soybean may have some faults, there are few complaints about its feeding value for livestock.

Drugs are useless in the control of coccidiosis among chickens. At the first symptoms of the disease the birds should be placed on a heavy milk diet.

Trees need enormous quantities of water. An apple tree 30 years old gives approximately a barrel of water a day in summer.

Says Sam: Just being different from other folks is a doubtful method of becoming distinguished.

Interest in the beautification of homes and their surroundings is a sure indication of a better grasp of the fundamentals of living.

Radio and Flying
Child Health Day
One Cubic Inch, One Ton
Round Your Corners

Among farmers' wives until recently the percentage of insanity was very high. Living isolated lives, working hard from dawn until long after dark, seeing nobody but the sometimes dull, tired husband and farm hands, was bad for the mind.

Then came rural free delivery, bringing pictures of the latest fashions, and the telephone, with news of neighbors, finally, greatest blessing of all, the radio. Farmers' wives tune in, and retain their sanity.

To the exceptional woman, rich, able to do what she pleases, but hitherto finding little amusing excitement after sixty, flying offers relief. The British duchess of Bedford, sixty-four years old, goes up and down the earth at a rate of speed that old Satan never dreamed of.

She has just started the second leg of a flight from London to South Africa, an able pilot and mechanic keeping her company.

You would say that a flying man or woman could write a book, "Things I Have Seen," that would eclipse Voltaire's "Choses Vues," (Things Seen), for Voltaire crawled around on the earth's surface.

However, not the eyes but the heart and brain do the real seeing.

Gandhi, starved Hindu whose sincerity causes the British empire more anxiety than all his 300,000,000 fellow Hindus combined, learns, as other enthusiasts have done, that the spirit is willing, but the flesh is weak.

Weighing barely 100 pounds, eating no meat, taking no stimulants, a walk of 200 miles, that would seem a joke to an Irishman or a Scotchman, has exhausted him. He cannot go on.

Hodge, Calif.—President Hoover, designating May 1 as "Child Health day," urges parents and all others to co-operate.

These are some ingredients of child health:

Fresh air and sunlight. They cost nothing.

Regular hours, long and regular sleep. They cost nothing.

Eating slowly, which costs nothing, and develops teeth and jaws, avoiding adenoid and other troubles.

Good, simple food, with variety, from day to day. That costs trouble, principally.

While designating a child health day the government might think of the mother's health, also, and the disgraceful fact that this nation leads all others, civilized, in the number of mothers that die in childbirth for lack of competent attention.

If a cow is about to have a litter, or a cow a calf, the government stands ready to advise and help through the Agricultural department.

For the expectant human mother there is no such help.

Uranium, heaviest of all metals, is now produced for $400 a pound. Some of it was shown to chemists at Atlanta. The present price is low. Recently the stuff was priceless.

It weighs twice as much as lead, but, cosmically considered, that is not heavy. Learn from science that the substance of certain stars, because of terrific gravity and compression weighs two thousand pounds to the cubic inch. Imagine the outer point of your thumb weighing a ton.

The sun's radiation, heat and power are supposed to come from the "stripping of atoms." The electrons, revolving around the nuclei, are stripped off and shot into space. The nuclei, left alone, are packed one against another, with no space separating them from their electrons and from each other. It is as though you stripped away the planets from suns in space and packed the suns solidly together in a lump. That would be heavy.

An electron, in proportion to its size, is as far from its central nucleus as the sun is from the earth.

Each atom is a little solar system, so small you do not notice a million of those systems in the corner of your eye. Our universe is really too complicated, at least for our feeble minds.

Important to city governments. Berlin, which makes city rule a science, no t agrat, is gradually rounding off corners on streets with heavy traffic. Big omnibuses can turn rounded corners without pulling out into the street, interfering with other vehicles.

The used airplane problem already causes anxiety. With constant improvement, passenger planes become obsolete while still in safe working order. Highly expensive machines they have little second-hand value. The problem is to use, profitably, the flying life remaining, in them.

Among others of our great industrialists, Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., head of General Motors, appropriates millions each year for scientific research. Thanks to this wise and profitable course, followed by the nation's greatest corporations, Steel, Standard Oil, etc., important discoveries are made in many directions.

Judge Trees By Native Records

If It Was Good In Virgin
Forest It's Good For Reforestation

Among hardwood or deciduous trees, those with good records in native forests, and in good demand on the lumber market, are the best choices for reforestation operations, suggests F. W. Dean, extension forester for the Ohio State University. The performance of a hardwood tree under natural conditions, Dean says, is a good indication of its value when planted as a source of timber.

"Such trees include black walnut, white ash, white and red oaks, tulip poplar, sugar maple, and white elm, which is particularly well adapted to the black soils of northwestern Ohio," says Dean. "Black locust and catalpa can be used satisfactorily for producing posts on the farm. The catalpa is largely restricted to the better agricultural soils of western Ohio. Cottonwood and Chinese poplar can be successfully planted on bottom lands or overflow areas along streams, for the production of pulp or paper wood."

It is estimated that about 22 cents of every dollar spent for food goes for dairy products.

LARGE CARBURETOR. The power developed by Pontiac's large engine is due in part to a large 1 1/2-inch carburetor, equipped with an accelerating pump and an internal economizer.

OTHER FEATURES. In addition, the power plant has a positive gasoline pump, a large three-port intake manifold of improved design and a positive full pressure oiling system which assures ample lubrication at all engine speeds and results in long life. Come in and arrange to take a New Series Pontiac Big Six for a trial ride. At the same time you can learn how much Pontiac has to offer in comfort, style and durability.

Prices are f. o. b. Pontiac, Mich., plus delivery charges. Shock absorbers standard equipment. Bumpers and spring covers at slight extra cost. General Motors Time Payment Plan available at minimum rate.

How to Plant the Home Orchard

- 1. Permanent Trees
- 2. Semi-permanent Trees.
- 3. Temporary Trees

1. When first Planted

2. Temporary Fillers Removed

3. Permanent Trees Only

Fruit Trees Should Be Properly Spaced

The diagram will prove helpful in securing the maximum returns from your orchard property.

The modern orchard is usually planted in a mixture of two or more varieties of fruits. There are good reasons for this. Some of the most desirable fruit trees do not come to bear for several years but eventually make large trees and are very long lived. Others are not long lived nor of large growing habit, but bear very young. Therefore, the more important trees are classified as "permanent," "semi-permanent," and "temporary." The general mode of planting is this: Permanent trees are spaced forty to fifty feet apart in squares. Also spaced in these squares, fifty feet apart, are the semi-permanent trees, or if none of these last are used, then temporary trees may be substituted. Finally, at a point midway between the permanent trees, temporary trees are planted.

These last come to bear very early and the orchard, thereby, begins to make immediate returns to the owner. Later, when the semi-permanent trees are bearing and need more room the temporary trees are cut down. Still later, when the permanent trees are fully developed and bearing, the semi-permanent trees are cut out and the orchard continues to bear at full capacity with no time lost. The time elapsing between the planting time and cutting out of the semi-permanent trees is usually 15 to 20 years. The land is much enhanced in value when the final trees are bearing. Altogether this is a very satisfactory arrangement.

Sharp tools are important, for those that chew and tear instead of cutting cause more grief than no pruning at all. In cutting back branches be careful to cut close to a bud. Avoid leaving stumps even half an inch long. Careful pruning is decidedly important if you hope to have well-formed trees.

And unless you are shaping a shrub to fit into a deliberately formal effect, never cut back shrubbery with a straight edge as though it were a hedge, but study each shrub and try to help it realize its natural habit of growth.

The prevailing practice of cutting the ends of all stems has the effect of destroying the natural habit of growth and producing stiff, leggy plants having all their growth at the top and bare, ugly limbs beneath.

Consider your apples and pears and spray them at the right time. First when the cluster buds show pink and are separate; later when three-fourths of petals have fallen and calyx and set of the apple closes.

DRAMATIC TRIAL

The Dramatic Trial entitled "Who Killed Earl Wright" will be presented in the Cedarville Opera House Wednesday evening, April 23rd, at eight o'clock. This trial is the exact reproduction of an actual murder case which was recently tried in a western city.

Mr. George Hammond an attorney of Des Moines, Iowa, was in court during the trial of a prominent young man of that community who had killed his best friend while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. The situation facing this young man so impressed him that he produced a drama in the form of a murder trial based upon the facts in this case. The bootlegger who sold the stuff by means of which this young man became intoxicated, was jointly guilty for the murder of Earl Wright, although he was never punished for this crime.

Mr. Will J. Foster of Cincinnati, and Mr. John Ekey of Columbus, who take the parts of the prosecutor and attorney for defense, will be assisted in presenting this production by the following local people:

Judge, Dr. F. A. Jurkat; Mrs. French, Mrs. H. C. Shick; Defendant, Herbert Main; Mother of Defendant, Mrs. S. C. Wright; Tony, the bootlegger, W. W. Galloway; Court Bailiff, Rev. H. C. Gunnett; The Sheriff, Dr. W. P. Harriman; Coroner, Rev. R. A. Jamieson, Court Reporter, Roger Storemont, Wife and two children, Mrs. H. W. Main, Xenia.

Mr. Brown, with Ned and Lois. Jurors: Dr. W. R. McChesney, Foreman; Dr. M. I. Marsh, Dr. O. F. Elias, Dr. Leo Anderson, Prof. H. D. Furr, Geo. Hartman, Dr. H. C. Shick, Mrs. A. E. Huey, Mrs. W. H. Barber, Mrs. Geo. Martindale, Mrs. J. S. West and Mrs. J. E. Kyle.

The local pastors witnessed the presentation of this drama at the Pastors Convention in Columbus in January, and are responsible for its presentation in Cedarville next Wednesday evening, and assure the community that they will be both entertained and enlightened by this performance. There will be no admission charge, but an offering will be taken.

Continued Effort Will Accomplish Much

Watch a steam shovel working at a great hill. One shovel-ful at a time and at last the hill is gone, due to continued effort.

The same continued effort in community life will overcome what may seem insurmountable obstacles in the way of community betterment.

Keeping everlastingly at it---each and every member of the community doing his share of boosting and building---and success is assured.

Let us all dig in and do our share of this commendable work.

OUR INTEREST IN THE WELFARE OF THIS COMMUNITY PROMPTS US TO SPONSOR THIS MESSAGE TO THE PEOPLE OF CEDARVILLE AND VICINITY

The Cedarville Community Club

There is plenty for the leaders of our community to talk about on the subject of digging in for the betterment of the community.
